

Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue

12.5 Instant opinion poll

PROCEDURE

- 1 This activity can be used to round off a pairwork discussion activity of the values clarification type, where students are asked to say whether they agree or disagree with certain statements and how strongly they feel about them. Assign one of the statements to each student or pair, and give them the task of finding how many students in the class agreed strongly, felt neutral, or disagreed strongly.
- 2 Get them to present their findings as a graph or pie chart on a small piece of paper.
- 3 Arrange and glue these onto a poster-size piece of paper and pin this up for students to read and comment on.

This page is reproduced with the permission of OUP